

Renata's favourite storybook has been ripped and she is extremely sad! Renata talks about the importance of looking after our beautiful books and goes on to find other ways we can tell stories. With the children's help they dramatize some easy to follow multicultural stories & songs with the help of dress ups, puppet and the guitar! A traditional Chinese story and an Aboriginal "Yara" is woven into the show as well as some catchy music.

This is a fantastic multicultural experience choreographed for young children. The show is communicated beautifully through music, storytelling, colourful props and backdrops, Oh Yes.... Let's not forget that Renata is very very tricky!!!
